Like many mother's, it's expected that Donis Tracy will be served breakfast in bed, but it's also expected that her 10 children will help her eat it, too.

"They will leave me in bed, then eat my breakfast, make all kinds of cards, messages and plants," Donis said, adding that son Mark will make a mathematical graph for the meaning of Mother's Day.

Tracy and her husband Gregory, married for 26 years, are the proud parents of 10 – six boys and four girls, ranging in age from seven to 25. If you go by Cora Street in Winthrop, you can often find several of them playing basketball in the driveway.

When Donis isn't with her family, she's working at the Immaculate Conception School in Revere as the administration director, middle school religion teacher and music teacher for preschool and pre-K music. She's also been the confirmation director for the last eight years. Her husband Gregory is the managing editor of The Pilot, the Boston Archdiocese newspaper.

"She puts out so much for us and balances it all. She's my best friend," said daughter Julia, number four in line. "I could never do what she does. But this is what we are used to."

Julia is a co-op student at Northeastern, working as a nursing student whose job is now testing the hearing of babies. The number one child in the family is Carmen, soon to graduate from Georgetown Law School; then David, a graduate of Emmanuel College who is a chemist for a pharmaceutical company; then Mark, ready to graduate from Harvard with a degree in physics; then Julia; then Stephen, who will attend Brandeis as a marketing and psychology major; Maria, a Winthrop High School sophomore; Daniel, a Winthrop Middle School eighth-grader; John, a sixth-grader at WMS; Michael, a third-grader at the Proposed Town budget up 3 percent

By Sue Ellen Woodcock

Interim Town Manager Terence Delehanty has presented the fiscal year 2019 budget to the Town Council for consideration and it is roughly three percent higher than the fiscal year 2018 budget for the operation of the town, including schools.

"This year's general operating budget is balanced, with estimated operating revenues of $50,570,025," Delehanty stated. "I feel it's important to remind everyone that before we add additional positions we should ensure that every budget, school and town, should have the same level of service that they had last year."

"Keep in mind, much like a Christmas wish list some requests do not make the cut," said Council President Ron Vecchia. "It is all about prioritizing our needs for the upcoming year."

But he said this is not the case with the school department for the next fiscal year. The school department had requested a $3,198,410 increase over last years. A final figure was brought down to $1,185,215 to have level services in next year's budget.

"After significant review we were only able to fund the School Department $800,000 above last year's budget," Delehanty stated, adding that it's a 3.8 percent increase.

This leaves the school department with a shortfall of roughly $385,215.

Delehanty stated that the team responsible for developing the balanced budget had to make difficult decisions and some areas were removed from the budget like: additional overtime funding for police and fire; sidewalk repairs; a DPW truck; police cruiser; funding for the ferry, funding for the gymnasium, OPEB Trust Funding and contract services for a town planner. The truck and the cruiser were added to the capital improvements list.

The council will hold public hearings on the budget and residents will have an opportunity to address all budget items. As in the past any additions or changes made to the budget must be accompanied by an offset (what item is to be eliminated) to fund the change.

"The budget has many moving parts with a final determination of cherry sheet receipts not known until we approach early summer," Vecchia said.

DPW crews wake the neighborhood

Down in the town center it was one of the first warm, and a bit muggy, nights of the upcoming summer season, and many area residents opted to sleep with their windows open – until they were awakened by a leaf blower at 1:50 a.m.

Police received a call at 1:50 a.m. complaining about the noise being made by the Department of Public Works employees using leaf blowers. The caller stated that the noise had been going on for over an hour and that her children were also awakened by the noise.

Winthrop Drama Society gets zany in performance of 'Sideways Stories from Wayside School' May 10-12

By Kate Anslinger

The Winthrop Drama Society is excited to announce their latest performance, "Sideways Stories" from Wayside School. Adapted for the stage by John Olive and from the novels by Louis Sachar, the play is being described as a family-fun, over-the-top show with unexpected twists, flashy costumes, and a peculiar set.

As opposed to their award-winning performance of Faustus, which had a plot and atmosphere that was weighty and reflective, "Sideways Stories" is light-hearted and brimming with humor.

The setting takes place on the 30th floor of an absurd school building that was designed by a guy who had the idea of stacking the classrooms on top of one another instead of a layout that would be much more conducive to a typical school building. And the further up you go in the building; the more bizarre things get. The unconventional design is followed by an even more unconventional cast of characters and zany situations.

"We are pretty confident that everyone will leave the show feeling like they just had fun watching it," said Sam Zichella, who is approaching the bittersweet ending of his high school drama career.

The change of pace is nice for the drama society, who is hoping to close the school year with something light and fun.

"I've been excited about this show since they announced it, said Cat Grimes, the show's stage manager. "I've never built a room like this-in a contorted classroom."

The show is kid-friendly, and the wild costumes are sure to keep the audience laughing.

"The costumes for this show are really wacky and weird, so it's been very interesting making them," said Zara Powell, who will be taking over the costume responsibilities, as Izzy Regis, costume designer, heads off to college.

The show will be performed on May 10, 11, and 12 at 7 p.m., with a matinee on the 12 at 2 p.m.. Tickets can be purchased in advance at www.Winthropdrama.com .

Cummings School; and Sarah, a second-grader at the Fort Banks School. Most of their-birthdays fall in either June, July, August and September.

David, the second oldest, was actually so sick of having cake that they made a birthday-style stack of nachos.

In the past the children have made a big deal about events in their family, including Donis' and Gregory's 25th wedding anniversary and a trip to Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

"We still have date nights to Old Orchard Beach," Donis said.

They met in college, bumped into each other a few times and eventually married at Our Lady of Assumption in East Boston. Sure, they talked about having children. Donis, even though she was an only child, had done a lot of babysitting and worked in daycares. Gregory has two siblings. She admits there was a little shock at first, but in the end there has been nothing but happiness.

"We've gotten though everything based on faith," Donis said, especially a miscarriage of twins. "We'll get to know them on the other side."

As far as running a household, everyone pitches in from cleaning to cooking on a daily basis. They spend anywhere from $275-$300 a week on groceries alone.

"At the end of the day we all have chores," Julia said.

As for discipline, Donis said it has come down to some basic understandings – like you don't stay out to all hours. She admits the world can be scary at times, but she trusts her children.

"They know and enforce the rules," Donis said, adding that again it is faith that guides the way.

There's even a saying in the house to "rely on other people and ask Julia for advice."

"There's a fine line between being too much of a friend and protector. There's no magic equation," Donis said. "I don't have favorites and they seem to be magically gifted musically, and in soccer, theater and other areas."

facing adversity," said Speaker DeLeo. "I am particularly proud of the work we have done on early education and care, and I believe that our efforts will have a lasting impact on the lives of countless families. I want to offer my sincere thanks to chairman Sánchez for his hard work and my colleagues who provided invaluable insight."

"I want to thank Speaker DeLeo and our new Chair of Ways and Means Jeffrey Sanchez for delivering to the House a budget that was balanced, on time and reflective of the collective needs of the people of Massachusetts," said Rep. Vincent. "I believe we as a legislative body did a great job in adopting a fiscally prudent budget which invests in public safety, economic development, elder affairs, education and so many other areas, without new broad-based taxes for the residents of the Commonwealth."

Items particular to Winthrop and Revere include:

$25,000 each for the Winthrop and Revere Chambers of Commerce.

$250,000 each for Winthrop and Revere Child Safety grants.

$1 million for State Police Directed Patrols, which will aid in coverage on Revere Beach during the summer months.

·Over $1 million for the maintenance, operation and programming on the region's metropolitan beaches, including Revere Beach.

$250,000 for CAPIC, which supports families and children in Revere, Chelsea and Winthrop.

Recognizing the state's important relationship with municipalities, the budget increases Unrestricted General Government Aid and local education funding by $220 million over FY18 and $54 million over the governor's budget proposal. It provides an unprecedented $4.9 billion in Chapter 70 education funding, including an increase of $39 million from FY18 to address increasing teacher and faculty healthcare costs, as recommended by the Foundation Budget Review Commission. Additional education and local aid allocations include:

$300 million for Circuit Breaker Special Education reimbursement;

$90 million for Charter School Reimbursement;

$63.5 million for Regional School Transportation reimbursement.

The House budget continues its commitment to ensuring the wellbeing of children and families by lifting the cap on children receiving benefits for low income families, supporting early childhood metal health and behavioral health efforts, and ensuring children have access to high-quality early education and care (EEC). The budget invests in those who work with our children by increasing rates for early education providers. The House budget also includes $8.5 million to establish an EEC workforce development initiative to coordinate professional development and higher education opportunities in conjunction with Massachusetts' community colleges. Highlights include:

Lifting the "cap on kids" that currently prevents families from receiving TAFDC benefits for certain children.

$2.5 million for continued support for early childhood mental health consultation services.

$20 million to support high-quality EEC programs though provider rate increase.

Access to safe, adequate, and affordable housing provides the foundation from which families and individuals can lead successful lives. To this end, the House has made investments in permanent housing solutions and efforts to eliminate homelessness. Since 2013, shelter caseload has decreased dramatically, and the number of families living in hotels and motels has decreased to nearly zero. This year, the House continues these efforts by:

Providing $100 million for the Massachusetts Rental Voucher Program (MRVP);

Funding the Residential Assistance for Families in Transition (RAFT) Program at $17 million;

Allocating $32 million for the HomeBASE program;

Creating a new $5 million rapid rehousing program for homeless individuals.

The opioid epidemic is a public health crisis that continues to take lives at an alarming rate. Recent data show that previous investments have made an impact: the number of opioid-related deaths decreased in 2017. However, hospitals, police departments, and EMTs report an ever-rising number of overdoses, underscoring the need to invest in treatment and recovery. To help those in need, the House budget includes:

• $139 million for the Bureau of Substance Addiction Services which will help create five new recovery centers across Massachusetts;

• $5 million for diversion programs to direct people into community-based treatment programs;

• $4.9 million for step-down recovery services;

• $1 million for the purchase of Narcan for first responders and an expansion of the Municipal Naloxone Bulk Purchase Trust Fund to allow non-profit organizations that contract with the Department of Public Health to access Narcan at a significant discount.

In addition to preparing the children scholastically, the staff at the Children's Corner Preschool have also made it their mission to educate the students about bettering the world that they live in and helping others. Every year the young students participate in a Trike-A-Thon to raise funds for St. Jude's Children Research Hospital.

Supported with donations from family members and friends, the preschoolers, ride their bicycles, tricycles and scooters on a course at the school and the event has proven to be beneficial for the children as well as the community.

"The children are learning to ride and are learning to give," said Preschool Director, Diane Barsotti. "All money raised is given to the hospital."

Since starting the Trike-A-Thon over 25 years ago, the preschool has raised almost $75,000.00 to help St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital continue on its mission of finding cures and saving children.

OUR Opinions

TAKING CARE OF OUR VETERANS

The recent announcement by Gov. Charlie Baker that the state has secured approximately $70 million in federal funding for the new, 154-bed Community Living Center at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home assures that this much-needed and important project will go forward.

Our state leaders, most notably Gov. Baker, House Speaker Bob DeLeo, and Secretary of Veterans' Services Francisco A. Ureña, have made it a priority of designing and obtaining the funding for the $199 million project, but getting the federal funding was always a crucial piece of the puzzle that had to come through.

The new Community Living Center at the Chelsea Soldiers' Home will provide 154 "home-like" rooms for veterans in accordance with Veterans Administration standards of design, which promotes greater accessibility, mobility, and enhanced quality of life. Services will include physical and occupational therapy, recreational activities, and greater access to the outdoors. The current facility, the Quigley Memorial Long Term Care Center, will continue to be fully operational during the construction process with an anticipated project completion date in 2021.

The new Quigley center has been almost a year in the making, ever since when in May 2017, the Baker-Polito administration announced state funding for the new long-term care facility as part of the Fiscal Year 2018 capital budget plan. Gov. Baker signed the bill to fund the project in November after Speaker DeLeo had shepherded it through the legislative process.

The Chelsea Soldiers' Home has a long and hallowed history of serving our state's veterans. It first opened its doors in 1882 to Massachusetts veterans of the Civil War who had been wounded or unable to care for themselves, many of whom had previously resided in the Commonwealth's "alms houses."

The Chelsea Soldiers' Home was recognized as a national leader for the care of our veterans for more than five decades under the direction of the legendary Lawrence F. Quigley, a veteran of the the first World War, and then under his son, John L. Quigley, who was a Marine who received a Purple Heart when he went ashore during the invasion of Iwo Jima in WWII.

Today, the Chelsea Soldiers Home, under the leadership of Superintendent Cheryl Lussier Poppe, continues to be a national leader in fulfilling its role in caring for our veterans, maintaining Massachusetts' proud tradition of helping all veterans in need of both long-term care and domiciliary/supportive services.

We know we speak for all our fellow Massachusetts citizens in looking forward to the construction of a new facility that will bring the Chelsea Soldiers Home and the Quigley long-term center into the 21st century.

LETTERS to the Editor

THANK YOU TROOP 76264

Dear Editor:

I want to give a big thank you to the Winthrop Girl Scouts in Troop 76264 for all their hard work helping me assembling care packages for our men and women serving overseas with the United States military. These Girl Scouts of Troop 76264, not only assembled the care packages, but spent time collecting all of the snacks and toiletries.

Each mini-care package contained some snacks like peanut butter crackers, granola bars, microwave popcorn, packets of oatmeal, hot chocolate, candy and some toiletries like Q-Tips, lip balm and hand sanitizer. Each mini care package also has a short letter or note written by these girls.

Each one of these mini-care packages will put a smile on a soldiers face, a small in his heart and a smile in his stomach.

Bishops urge support for increase in minimum wage

The following is a statement from the Roman Catholic Bishops of Massachusetts

In a civilized society every hard-working individual deserves to be compensated at a rate that is fair, just, and in line with the inherent dignity that we are all God's children regardless of economic status. A fair and just wage directly supports the individual, the family, and ultimately promotes a healthy society.

The Catholic Church teaches: "A just wage is the legitimate fruit of work. To refuse or withhold it can be a grave injustice. In determining fair pay both the needs and the contributions of each person must be taken into account. 'Remuneration for work should guarantee man the opportunity to provide a dignified livelihood for himself and his family on the material, social, cultural, and spiritual level, taking into account the role and the productivity of each, the state of business, and the common good.' Agreement between the parties is not sufficient to justify morally the amount to be received in wages."1

As detailed in our Statement titled; The Value of a Just Wage,2 the Catholic Church continues to be among the state's largest social service providers. Basic, daily necessities of life are provided to those who cannot afford to provide for themselves or their families. The assistance provided includes, but is not limited to; clothing, food, rent, shelter, utilities, and transportation.

All families and individuals should be given the opportunity to break the cycle of reliance on others. By providing wages that are just and fair to both employers and employees, that opportunity will become a reality to hard working individuals.

It is the position of the Roman Catholic Bishops of Massachusetts that elected officials, or alternatively voters in the upcoming ballot question in November, should enact laws that puts a structure in place to increase the hourly minimum wage over the next several years. While the specific wage amounts are best determined by economists or other experts, we stand united in advocating for the neediest in society.

preparing for its eleventh annual Book, Cookie and Plant Sale, another event that has shaped the Winthrop community by welcoming readers, cookie connoisseurs, and gardeners alike to join interests and conviviality. What started many years before as the already vastly popular Book and Cookie Fair has "blossomed" since 2008 to become the Book, Cookie and Plant Sale.

On Saturday May 19, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., St. John's will be welcoming shoppers and browsers at 222 Bowdoin Street. The aroma of an irresistible assortment of cookies, including some that are gluten free, all lovingly home baked by parishioners, will guide patrons to the entrance. Tea and coffee are complimentary. Shoppers will enjoy sampling their book purchases, along with their baked selections, at comfortable indoor seating.

St. John's parishioners are actively plundering their gardens for a sizable array of plants, splitting perennials and culling seedlings from their private plots. There will be knowledgeable fellow gardeners on hand to offer planting advice and share horticulture tips, making this an optimal event for gardeners of all skill levels. In the May spirit, shoppers will also find various, garden-inspired gift items.

A veritable sea of books, priced to sell, will be arranged by category, to be relished by readers of all interests and ages. Parishioners are clearing off their bookshelves to make way for even more books, and St John's invites the public to do the same. Prior to May 19, all manner of books, with the exception of encyclopedias, may be donated by the public on Tuesdays and Thursdays 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the St John's Parish Hall, located at 222 Bowdoin Street (corner of Bowdoin and Buchanan) in Winthrop. Books may also be dropped off on the Rectory porch at 231 Bowdoin Street.

The St John's Episcopal Church website is at http://www.stjohnsepiscopal-winthropma.org/, where upcoming events and observances are posted in detail. The parish hall is wheelchair accessible.

a man using a leaf blower at Bank of America. The second party stated that he had gone to the La Siesta Restaurant.

According to the police log narrative, the DPW assistant was contacted and told the call taker that the work would be going on until 5 a.m. While the work continued to be done, a call was made to the deputy police chief who said he was unaware of the scheduled work, but that he could also not stop them.

Crews were on Woodside, French Square and Cottage Park.

Director of Public Works Steve Calla said this is how the crews have cleaned the center every year. It is done at night when there are no cars parked.

"It was posted," Calla said.

Precinct 5 Councilor Peter Christopher said while he appreciates the effort to clean up the Center, it's also clear he'd like to see a less intrusive way in the future.

"I plan on meeting with Director Calla to address the concerns of the neighborhood and see this doesn't happen in the future," Christopher said.

ARTICLE 825 - SHIRLEY STREET/PLAYSTEAD NARROW GAUGE RAILWAY STATION

This is another article in our series on the nine Narrow Gauge Railroad Stations that existed in Winthrop during its almost 70-year adventure with rail transportation. Commencing with a very brief period of a horse-drawn trolley in the early 1870's it developed, by 1888, into a successful railroad of narrow gauge (3 foot wide) track that ran a loop through the Town before returning to its origin. This train connected to the run through East Boston that ended at the terminal for Ferry service to Boston. This line started with steam driven locomotives pulling a small number of passenger cars on a single track. In 1903, the line was double tracked to be able to provide train service in both directions thereby reducing travel time for its passengers. In 1928, the entire system was electrified to reduce costs, but on Jan. 27, 1940, its operation was regretfully discontinued for financial reasons.

As the "History Buffs" in town know, the nine stops along the Narrow Gauge Railroad line in Winthrop were at the (1) Pleasant Street, (2) Cherry Street (Battery), (3) Highland, (4) Ocean Spray, (5) Shirley Street (Playstead), (6) Beach, (7) Thornton Park, (8) Center and (9) Ingalls Stations. As was stated in earlier Article, we are randomly devoting an article to each of the nine stations along the Narrow Gauge railroad loop that served the commuters in Winthrop. This week's article addresses the Shirley Street/ Playstead Station which was located on Shirley Street opposite what was the Jewish Community Center at the corner of Pearl Avenue and is now the Winthrop Beach Inn and Suites at 312 Shirley St. The first picture shows the station as it appeared about 1899 with the Shirley Street name and a single track extending along what is now Veteran's Road. A train can be seen stopped on the track behind the station. It was shortly renamed the Playstead Station in honor of the salt water marsh and fields where the golf course is today. Picture two depicts the station from the North with a train approaching from the Beach Station at Delby's corner. This picture was taken sometime after 1903 when the second set of rails were installed, as can be seen at the far right in the picture. Picture three was taken from the Veteran's Road side after the Narrow Gauge Railway was electrified in 1928 and shows the overhead electric wires. Picture four was taken just after the railroad discontinued service in 1940 as shown by the windows in the station being boarded up. Note the advertisement for a 1940 Greta Garbo movie on the fence. Another memento of "less hurried times" has been removed from the scene.

William Abely, Chairman of the Board of Assessors, has announced a new tax rate of $39.00, an increase of $2.00.

The selectmen early Friday morning voted to remove Fire Chief William A. Floyd from the Board of Fire Engineers to pave the way for the appointment of Thomas B. Smith, local plumbing and heating contractor, who will be the new chief. The selectmen then voted to increaser the board from three members to five, and exclude two former members, Floyd and Alfred Gilbert, from the newly-expanded board. Smith, the lone holdover from the former board, automatically will become chief because the chief must come from within the present members of the board.

The cornerstone of the new Winthrop Town Hall was laid Saturday afternoon at brief but impressive exercises that were attended by a large number of residents.

Local banker Almon E. Whittemore made a presentation to the Winthrop Board of Trade in which he told the members of his plans to fill the mud flats at Crystal Cove, thereby adding 10,000,000 square feet of land to the town that can be used for residential development. Whittemore said that a bulkhead can be built extending from the northwestern tip of Pt. Shirley, where Bay View makes a sharp turn into Grand View Ave., proceeding directly across Snake Island and onto the shore of Woodside Park, just south of the Cottage Park Y.C. The filled-in area then could be laid out into streets and lots.

Revere and Winthrop sent 11 men into the war service under the draft system on Friday morning. The new recruits will be the first to go to Fort Slocum, N.Y., under a special order from the provost marshal-general.

An alarming condition for Winthrop's victory gardens has been discovered. An examination of the corn stalks and stubble in local gardens has revealed that live corn borers entered the stalks. Last summer in Boston, entire victory gardens were destroyed by the pests.

said. "We'll review the candidates and hold another meeting May 30."

For the past nine years James McKenna was the town manager with a $150,000 salary. McKenna opted to take the last year of his 10-year contract as a consultant to the town, although that has become a little bone of contention. His contract expires May 15 and no one seems to know what consulting work was done.

In emails between Town Council President Ron Vecchia and McKenna, Vecchia had asked if McKenna would oversee the Ferry and Center Business District. Vecchia said he did meet with McKenna once on March 1.

"He presented me with a report regarding funding for the center project," Vecchia said.

In the meantime, Police Chief Terry Delehanty was appointed interim Town Manager. Delehanty was offered the position and has since declined. He is staying on as interim Town Manager until a new one can be found. It is his intention to remain as the police chief.

When Police Chief Terry Delehanty was appointed interim Town Manager he kept his police chief salary of $160,000. The Town Council sets the salary.

Vecchia said he has also met with department heads to hear their concerns.

"They were disappointed Terry was not taking the permanent position," Vecchia said. "He's brought the town forward and raised the morale of Town Hall."

WHS BOYS LACROSSE EARNS BIG VICTORIES

The Winthrop High boys lacrosse team turned in a pair of impressive victories this past week to improve to 8-5 on the season.

The first conquest was a 6-5 triumph over Medford, a team that is in first place in the South Division of the Northeastern Conference. Coach Brian Donnelly's crew then took the measure of Pope John XXIII, 6-1, in a non-league contest.

"Medford will most likely win our league, so it was a huge win," said Donnelly. "We played awesome defense in the second half and we got an unbelievable full game by goalie Andrew DiMento.

"The win over a very athletic Pope John opponent was a great team victory," Donnelly added.

The Vikings came up short in overtime at Revere this past Monday evening.

"The Revere game was a hard-fought battle," said Donnelly. "We played excellent lacrosse, but it didn't go our way this time."

After a slow start, the Vikings built some momentum two weeks ago that pushed their record over the .500 mark with decisive victories over Malden, Salem, Everett, and Lynn setting the stage for the big wins over Medford and Pope John.

"Our team is really starting to come together with great upperclassmen leadership and excellent freshmen and sophomore additions," said Donnelly. "The team is really starting to jive together and the offense has taken off with some unbelievable goal and assist production from juniors Pat Sennott, Luke Evangelista, and Brian Chalmers, sophomore Joe Mahoney, and break-out freshman starter Matt Hurley.

"Our defense is also playing amazingly, averaging only five goals-against per game, due in part to the brother duo of the Silvas, senior captain Christian Lyons, and veteran goaltender Drew DiMento," Donnelly added.

With a state tourney berth in their sights, the Vikings will host a very physical Saugus team this afternoon (Thursday). They will entertain Pope John on the Miller Field turf tomorrow (Friday) and travel to Malden on Monday. They will return home to face Salem next Thursday.

Despite solid outings from pitchers Rich Dumas, John Dowd (who has a 0.83 ERA this season), and Dan Auerbach, wins have been hard to come by for the WHS baseball team. However, the Vikings did eke out an exciting, 8-5 triumph over Marblehead in 10 innings. Dumas tossed all 10 frames, throwing 140 pitches. A two-RBI base hit by Andrew Reczek in the top of the 10th provided the margin of victory. The Vikings had 15 hits, led by Dowd with a 4-for-4 effort. Joey Murray went 3-for-5 and Greg Lepke was 2-for-5.

Celtics vs Cavaliers

By: Jim Lederman

The Boston Celtics quest for a (4-0) sweep of the Philadelphia 76ers, ended in a (103-93) loss on Monday night in Philly. 'No Brooms' was the headline.

Game five was played last night (Wednesday) in the TD Garden. The Cleveland Cavaliers defeated Toronto (128-95) in Toronto, to 'sweep' the Raptors. The victory for Cleveland marked the third year in a row for the 'Cav's' over Toronto.

Will the Celtics and Cavaliers meet in the Eastern Conference finals? The 'King' and his court, will challenge an 'undermanned' Boston Celtics team. The 'Green' minus three players (Irving, Hayward and Theis) lost another key player on Monday night. Backup point guard Shane Larkin, injured his shoulder and his status for the next round of the playoffs is uncertain.

The Celtics will have 'home court' advantage in the finals of the Eastern Conference. The Celtics finished in second place in the 'East' with 55 wins. Coach Brad Stevens would be a strong candidate for 'Coach of the Year' in the NBA, losing three starters and reaching the East Finals for the second year in a row.

The leadership of Al Horford in the playoffs and the 'poise' of three young starters, 25-yeard-old Terry Rosier, 21-year-old Jaylen Brown and 20-point-scorer Jason Tatum.

Back in Boston, the series will be won by the Celtics. The Celtics bench, led by Marcus Morris (17-points) and the play of Aaron Baynes, will be a key to the series with the Cavaliers.

Squirt A goes all the way

Winthrop Youth Hockey team captures division championship

The Winthrop Youth Hockey champions, the Squirt A team.

When the Squirt A Valley League playoffs opened up the lowest possible seed(#7) belonged to the Winthrop Squirt A team. Although the team knew that their seeding was misleading, their opponents did not, and it ended up being to their demise. Winthrop began their playoff tourney by knocking off the #2 seed Methuen led by a Herculean effort from Mikey Holgersen, and stellar goaltending of Will Murphy. They then had the task of taking on the number #3 seed north reading in the second round. A tight battle once again saw Mikey Holgersen go into beast mode, and Will Murphy shut the door on the way to a hard fought win.

In the third game (which was for the American division championship), Winthrop had to beat the #4 seed North Andover (they beat #1 seed Cape Ann to advance). North Andover was a very strong team, but was no match for the now winthrop winning machine, and with the power lines of Holgersen, Luke "G" Ginthinji, Tyler Eaton. Nolan Upton, "magic" Mike D'ambrosio, Luke"bellsie" belghiti. Steven gear, isiah"ice"Bueno, and Bert Kline. Along with a trio of defenseman in Caitlyn"cod" O'Donnell, Amelia Spencer, and Talia Martucci. The Squirt A team rolled past North Andover and put themselves In line to play for the valley league universal championship. Winchester won the national division, and that set up an epic battle between two teams that had split the season series 1-1-1.

The final game was all that it was hyped up to be. Winthrop took an early two-goal lead on goals from Mikey Holgersen (who finished the playoffs with Gretzky like numbers 14-3-17 points), and Luke Belghiti. That lead would not last though as Winchester got a power play goal to cut the lead to 2-1, and then with only three minutes to go in the game they would knot the score at 2, setting up the drama that would eventually propel the Vikings to the crown. A five-minute 3-on-3 overtime period would not be enough to decide the outcome as both teams exchanged scoring chances with the open ice, but neither could muster the game winner.

This one would go to a shootout, and when it did. The Vikings would rise to the occasion, or should I say Will Murphy would become a stonewall, and carry the team to victory. After the first two Viking shooters were stifled, and so were the first 3 Winchester shooters (on 3 fantastic saves by murphy). Setting the stage for what would be the final two Winthrop shooters on the day. Winthrop's next shooter was talia Martucci, and if she could score would put Winthrop ahead by a pivotal goal, with Winchester down to its last two shots. Martucci elected to go the serpentine route and fire a wrist shot past the Winchester goalie that sent the Winthrop faithful into a frenzy. The 1-0 lead would be more than enough as the amazing will murphy would once again stop the 4th Winchester shooter. With that save by murphy the game, and the universal championship would lay on the stick of Winthrop's next shooter. Nolan "no-no" Upton would be shooting with the title hanging in the balance, a goal from Nolan and the game would be over. Winchester would only have one shot left, and would not be able to catch up to Winthrop. The straight up the middle approach by Upton would be perfect, especially when he buried a wrist shot over the Winchester goalies blocker that sent Viking nation into complete pandemonium, and secured the championship.

The Winthrop coaching staff of Bert Kline, Mike Upton, Steve Holgersen, and Anthony Martucci were very proud of the team, and their incredible run. "These kids really worked hard, they played together, never gave up, and because of that they are champions." Said Bert Kline. The Winthrop Squirt A team would like to thank Steve Indresano, and all of the members of the Winthrop youth hockey board, as well as all of the parents for their support.

green team won in overtime (101-98) to take a (3-0) lead in the best-of-seven semi-final series. (Editors Note) This story was written on Sunday!

Philly was 'boasting' that Ben Simmons was 'Rookie of the Year.' Ben had one-point in the last game in the Garden. The Rookie of the Year' should be Jason Tatum.

Tatum finished with 24-poing game three was Jason's fifth consecutive playoff game scoring 20-points/ The record passed Larry 'the Legend' Bird's rookie year record.

Al Horford (playoff Al) scored the big points and made the big plans in overtime. The 'skeptics' who felt Al was not worth all the 'big money' the Celtics contract for 'Big Al' are praising his play during the playoffs.

The Celtics will reach the Eastern Conference final for the second year in a row. Bring on 'King James' – Lebron James. Coach Brad Stevens should be Coach of the Year and Tatum, Jaylen Brown and Terry Rozier, will lead the 'Green Team' to the NBA Championship in 2019.

Lights Out

The Tampa Ray Lightning struck the Boston Bruins winning four out of the last five, to send the Bruins packing!

The Bruins won 50-games in the regular season, lost the conference title by only one point and thrilled their many faithful in the 'Hub of Hockey'.

The series victory over the Toronto Maple Leafs was exciting, with the Bruins winning the game in "seventh Heaven" in the TD Garden. I hail the play of Tuukka Rask in goal. He was outstanding and for those fans who want "two U's and two K's" traded, he was stellar between the pipes!

Coach Bruce Cassidy did an outstanding job behind the bench! The infusion of young talent, drafted by GM Don Sweeney, gives great hope the Bruins will be in the playoffs every year.

Extra Points

The first track meet at the 'new' Miller Field Stadium and Track will be the first WHS track meet in 12 years. Let's fill Miller Field on Monday, May 14, vs. Saugus.

Ready, Set, Go!

The Las Vegas oddsmakers picked the Philly 76ers to win the semi-final playoff round vs. the Celtics. On Saturday afternoon, the 'home team' – 76er's were 9 ½ point favorites. On Monday night at Philly, with the Celtics leading (3-0) in the series. Philly was a 9-½ point favorite.

Bring on the Cavaliers!

Let's Go Celtics!

How long will the playoffs in Boston for the month of May? Or will the Celtics continue their miracle in May? I believe coach Brad Stevens is the 'best' tactical coach on the NBA.

The Celtics in 2019 will be loaded wit h all-stars. The healthy return of Kyrie Irving and Gordon Hayward, will give the Celtics 'four' all-stars in the starting lineup.

Bring on Golden State!

Let's Go Green!

Behind the Plate

The Boston Red Sox have the best record in baseball (as of Monday, May 7), (25-9) with the Yankees trailing by only one game. The Sox play their 'hated rivals,' Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in the 'Big Apple.'

The Sox have received excellent pitching from Rick Porcello (5-0) and Chris Sale (3-1) 64-strikeouts! David Price (the $31 million dollar man) is once again a huge question mark.

The addition of J.D. Martinez .349 average – eight homeruns. The outstanding play of Mookie Betts (.355 average and 12 homeruns.

The play of Xander Boegarts .333 average, Mitch Moreland .347 and five homeruns and the pitching of Craig Kimbrell (1.23 ERA) gives hope for a play-off team.

I hope the Celtics play-off run continues until June!

Let the Games Begin!

Thirty Love

The 'moratorium' is over, the town council finally voted to end the period of time, the courts will remain and the idea of a 'parking lot' is totally absurd.

I received a visit from an ex-WHS tennis captain recently. "He remarked – we have a beautiful new high school and a spectacular football stadium, how come they did not fix the ageless Wallace B. McClean tennis courts?

The 'Save our Courts' committee, headed by coach Marie Finn (40 varsity, JV players) will come up with a very low figure to repair 0 rebuild the courts. Tennis for everyone – young and old – despite the 'negative' town councilor.

ing a six-game winning streak that has boosted the Lady Vikings to a sterling 9-3 record on the season.

Winthrop defeated Northeastern Conference rivals Malden and Saugus last week and non-league foe Hull this past Monday.

The Hull game, which Winthrop won in a hard-fought battle, 12-10, had some great action highlighted by solid goalie play on both sides.

"Gemma DiMento started in net for us and made some huge saves that really changed the momentum of the game," said WHS coach Ben Cimmino. "The offense continues to generate opportunities for us and helped etch out the 12-10 win."

Gabby Ford, who has secured a starting role on attack, received the Offensive Player of the Game Award. DiMento took home the Berserker Award for some outstanding saves throughout the game.

Cimmino and his crew were set to host archival Revere yesterday (Wednesday) with a chance to clinch the first-ever MIAA playoff berth for the WHS girls' program, as well as a piece of first place in the NEC South.

The Lady Vikings travel to Salem tomorrow (Friday) and then will make the long trek to Hull on Tuesday and another long ride to Gloucester next Thursday.

BOYS TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS SALEM, 4-1

The Winthrop High boys tennis team kept alive its hopes of qualifying for a berth in the post-season state tournament with a 4-1 victory at Salem this past Tuesday.

Kevin Dorr, the top Viking player, won his match in straight sets over his rival at first singles, 6-2, 6-4. Chris Finn, playing at third singles, whitewashed his Salem foe, 6-0, 6-0.

The Winthrop doubles pairings of Jake Langone and Sam Yarrow at first doubles won their match, 6-4, 6-1, and Rilind Byteyaj and Augie Cherico at second doubles also triumphed in straight sets, 6-4, 6-1.

Henry Brooks, playing at second singles, battled well in a 4-6, 4-6 loss.

In a 1-4 loss to Swampscott on Monday, Finn was the lone Viking to prevail, winning at third singles, 6-1, 6-0. The second doubles duo of Byteyaj and Cherico fought hard in a closely-contested match, 6-7 (4-7), 5-7.

The Winthrop junior varsity team performed well in their contests with the Swamspcott JV players. The combo of Alessia Naio and Steve Holgersen won their set, 7-5, as did the duos of Michael Brooks and Nick Deeb, 6-3, and Michael and Jared Vecchio, 6-4.

The pairing of Andy Angulo and Joe Deeb dropped a well-played set, 4-6.

Coach Marie Finn and her squad now stand at 3-5 on the season and must win four of their final six matches in the coming week in order to achieve a .500 record that will earn them a berth in the post-season state tournament.

The Vikings embark on that quest starting today (Thursday) at Danvers/Peabody and will host Malden tomorrow (Friday). They entertain Gloucester on Monday, travel to Revere on Tuesday, trek to Malden on Wednesday, and then conclude their season at home with Lynn Classical next Thursday.

WHS BASEBALL TEAM DEADLOCKS WITH REVERE

In a tough week for the Winthrop High baseball team (in which the Vikings dropped contests to Swampscott and Northeast Regional), a bright light for the WHS diamondmen was an 8-8 duel with Revere last Thursday that was halted after 11 innings and that was scheduled to be completed this past Tuesday.

Winthrop came back on no less than four occasions to force the game into extra innings and had numerous chances to win.

Sid Albert started and pitched four-plus innings, giving up six runs, of which only two were earned. Dan Gillis came on to throw seven frames in which he allowed only two runs.

Ryan Buccini paced the Viking offense with three singles and three runs scored. Bobby Hubert, "who always seems to be in the middle of everything," noted WHS head coach Frank DeMarco, reached base four times with a triple and a single. Bobby also scored a run and laid down a sacrifice bunt.

"Our hitting continues to be a problem," said DeMarco. "We allow far too many chances to be wasted along with spotty defense. However, the players have continued to work hard and we are still hopeful that the hard work will pay off as we head into our games with the Division 4 schools on our schedule that will determine whether we make the state tournament. We'll see how that plays out in the next week or two."

DeMarco and his crew host Essex Tech today (Thursday), make the long trek to Gloucester on Monday, and host Medford on Wednesday.

GRIFFITHS WINS IN MARBLEHEAD MATCH

Although the Winthrop High girls tennis team came out on the short end of recent contests with Swampscott and Marblehead, two of the perennial powerhouses of the Northeastern Conference, a highlight of the Marblehead match was a victory by Kirsten Griffiths over her Lady Magician counterpart in the No. 3 singles slot.

"Anytime you can get a point off Marblehead, that's a good day," said WHS head coach Mike Nickerson.

The Lady Vikings were set to take on Peabody today (Thursday) and travel to Malden tomorrow (Friday). Next week they will make the long ride to Gloucester on Monday, entertain Revere on Tuesday, host Medford on Wednesday, and play at Lynn Classical next Thursday in the season finale.

WHS SOFTBALL TEAM EDGES POPE JOHN

The Winthrop High softball team turned in a fine all-around performance to earn a 4-2 victory over Pope John XXIII in 10 innings last week.

Stephanie Strangie delivered the game-winning RBI base hit that brought in teammate Bella Perrotta, who had doubled to lead off the inning. Strangie then scored an insurance run thanks to a base hit by Brooke Costin.

Sofia Vitale was the pitching star for the Lady Vikings, tossing scoreless softball and yielding only four hits in the seven innings she worked after coming on in relief of Strangie with the Lady Vikings trailing 2-0.

Jess Martin brought the contest back to level with a two-run homer in the fifth, from where the teams remained deadlocked until Winthrop broke through in the 10th.

In a 3-0 loss to Marblehead a day earlier, Strangie and Vitale shared pitching duties once again, but a lack of run support proved fatal. Stephanie spun four innings of one-hit, one earned-run softball, while Sofia yielded only one run and one hit in her three innings of work.

This past Saturday, the Lady Vikings engaged in a doubleheader with Gloucester at the Bentley University field and came out on the short end of both contests. In an 8-4 loss to Swampscott this past Monday, the contest was highlighted for Winthrop by the first varsity base hit by Lady Viking Katie Gagnon.

Coach Dave Guffey and his crew, who now stand at 3-7 at the halfway mark of the season, were set to play at undefeated Peabody yesterday (Wednesday) and to host Everett today (Thursday). They will entertain Malden Saturday at 2 p.m. and travel to Medford on Wednesday of next week.

WHS SAILING TEAM STANDS AT 2-2

The Winthrop High sailing team earned its second victory of the season (the first having come at the expense of Swampscott two weeks ago) with a 4-0 triumph over the Landmark School in a regatta held at the Cottage Park Y.C. last week.

The results for the Vikings in skipper-crew pairs were: Ella McCarey and John Cataldo taking 3rd, 1st, 4th, and 1st place in the four races; Elizabeth Collins and Andreas Simon taking 2nd, 5th, 2nd, and 3rd; and Antea Schlichting and RJ St. Jean taking 1st, 3rd, 3rd, and 2nd.

This past Monday the Vikings scrimmaged BC High informally (they are not in Winthrop's division). "We learned a lot of competitive tactics from them," said WHS head coach Catherine Domina. "Though we lost, the team really learned from sailing against that team. "

The Vikings were set to close out their regular season with regattas yesterday (Wednesday) and tomorrow (Friday). They will take part in the championship races that will be held at CBI on the Charles River May 21-22.

"The kids have made great strides this season, especially refining their ability to work as a team," noted Domina.

WHS TRACKSTERS COMPETE IN NEC FROSH/SOPH MEET

The freshmen and sophomore members of the Winthrop High boys and girls track and field teams competed in the annual Freshmen and Sophomore Meet of the Northeastern Conference that was held this past Saturday at Harry Della Russo Stadium in Revere.

Claire Nargi was the top point-scorer on the day for the Viking contingent, taking second place in the 110 hurdles in a time of 17.5 and fifth place in the long jump with a leap of 14'-10".

Beatriz Holzman also scored in two events for Winthrop, taking second place in the 400 meter hurdles with a time of 1:14.2 and eighth-place in the long jump with a leap of 14'-0".

1st Anniversary Remembrance

Joan K. Furey

June 25, 1934 - May 13, 2017

I'd like the memory of me to be a happy one,
I'd like to leave an afterglow of smiles
when life is done.
I'd like to leave an echo whispering softly down the ways, of happy times and laughing times and bright & sunny days.
I'd like the tears
of those who grieve, to dry before the sun
of happy memories that I leave behind
when life is done.

Love & Miss You Always

God saw you getting tired
And a cure was not to be
So He wrapped his arms around you
And whispered "Come to Me".
With tearful eyes we watched you,
And saw you pass away,
Although we loved you dearly,
We could not make you stay.
A golden heart stopped beating,
Hard working hands at rest.
God broke our hearts to prove to us,
He only takes the best.

All types of services for all types of people.

Some people prefer traditional funeral services. Others prefer cremation. Some want an elaborate ceremony. Then there are others who don't want any ceremony at all. When it comes to funerals, there are as many options as there are people. And we take pride in being able to say we offer them all.

ARTHUR T. CUMMINGS SCHOOL HOSTS DINNER WITH A GENTLEMAN

By Kate Anslinger

For the first time ever, the Arthur T. Cummings School hosted an event that was designed to showcase the importance of male role models in the lives of youngsters. Students wore their best as they escorted their fathers, grandfathers, uncles, and brothers to the dinner and presentation held in the school's gymnasium. District Attorney Candidate Greg Hennning was present to share his own personal story and answer questions from inquisitive students.

"The Dinner with a Gentleman event was a way to recognize and welcome the many male role models that are supporting our students," said Ryan Heraty, Arthur T. Cummings principal. "As educators, we are very aware that having a strong role model is critical for our students as they navigate life's many hurdles. Whether it was a father, brother, uncle, or grandfather, the gentlemen that stepped forward tonight are incredible, and we cannot thank them enough for being active, positive supports in the lives of these children."

"GREAT FUTURES START HERE"

From finance to teaching

By Kate Anslinger

Fourth-grade teacher Amanda Cumings-Ozkaynak didn't know that she wanted to be a teacher when she started college and instead, she studied economics at Wheaton College pursuing a career in finance. After working in the finance industry for four years, she realized that it wasn't for her and she set her sights on becoming a teacher. She went on to get a master's degree in elementary education from Lesley University while interning at Hillside Elementary School in Needham.

"I think deep down I always wanted to be a teacher, but it took a few years to realize it," she said.

If you weren't a teacher, what other profession could you see yourself doing?

I can't imagine being in any profession other than teaching at this point. Prior to becoming a teacher, I worked in finance. I think that experience helped me realize teaching was my true passion and it made me value teaching more than I think I otherwise would have.

Is there someone who inspired you to teach?

My third-grade teacher, Mrs. Weintraub, and my mom. Even though my mom wasn't a teacher, I think she would have been an amazing teacher.

Do your students inspire you?

Yes, they inspire me every day. Their ideas, their energy, and their excitement are contagious.

Do you feel that technology has changed the way you teach?

I have only been teaching for a few years so technology has always been a part of the way I teach. I think technology is a great way to share resources and collaborate with other teachers. I also think technology helps with differentiating among students and helping them focus on areas they need more practice.

Amanda Cumings-Ozkaynak.
